Dedicated with permission to the Right Honorable The Lady Elizabeth Belgrave

Marion, or Will ye gang to the burn side?

(Sung by Mrs. Ashe at the Nobility's Concerts)

Ballad

Jane Mary Guest

OpenScore (CC0)

OpenScore (CC0)

41
con anima nae sae sweet as thee, as thee, but nae sae sweet as thee, as thee, but legato
45
ad lib
nae sae sweet as thee.
cresc.
f
legato
Second Verse
49
sf
Will ye gang to the burn side Ma-rion, And flow - ers pluck with me? The Birds shall sing of p 54
Ma-rion; And Ro - ses blow for thee, for thee; and Ro - ses blow for thee. And cresc.
legato

OpenScore (CC0)

3
Will ye come, and sail my Marion
All on the silver sea?
Fear not the waves my Marion,
Thou'rt safe, for thou'rt with me:
There's many a heart my Marion,
That now beats high for thee;
There's many sigh for Marion,
But none that loves like me.